FOREWORD

While compiling this work I received support from many who provided information, photos, and documents. To each of them I am grateful, and appreciative, and likewise, I thank all those researchers who assisted with timely inputs or corrections.

I would give special thanks to Exodie Broussard Vincent, whose "barrel full" of hand written notes on Broussard, Vincent, and Trahan Families assisted in placement of many unknown persons to their perspective families.

I thank Floyd Weber, whose early assistance provided the impetus in putting together and then in publishing my initial family books.

I give a special thank you to the late Errol Brent Broussard, who assisted me in searching cemeteries and burial records; to Loubert and David Trahan and their assistance with data and equipment.

In any composition on any Acadian Family History, one must pay special thanks to the early pioneers in research, among them, Milton Rieder, Pearl Segura, Janet Jehn, Betty Porchiou, Father Donald Hebert, Stephen White, Bona Arsenault, Father Clarence D'Entremont (he answered many of my early questions, and was a pleasure to talk to and to be around), Lucie Leblanc Consentino, Carlin Dale Trahan, Mike Richard and his computer expertise, and all others that assisted my research.

Three Archivists, Betty Mier, Una Daigle, and Mattie Primeau, each of whom gave so much of their time and effort to assisting my search.

And thanks to all of the unnamed church secretaries who found time to listened and answered my many questions.

While this collection contains over 125,000 names, and may seem very long, it is like catching water in your hands, for all you have found, there are hundreds still missing. I wish my data was complete, and that I had answers for all; however, my hope is that others will follow this research, and that they will someday fill in the missing pieces that have eluded me, and add those yet to come.

The photo album has been assembled from donated photos and from various publications and obituaries, as a means of preserving the persons image for all to share. I remember numerous occasions where no one possessed a photo of an ancestor, and regretted the inability to know what they looked like. Hopefully thie photos will provide a glimpse for anyone in that situation.

I, as is true with anyone doing genealogy, can and have made mistakes along the way; however, I am always searching for more and better information, and make corrections when and where I find them. I urge each of you who utilize this data to advise me of any known or suspected errors, that we can a more factual history for our descendants.

Let me say that there is nothing entered with intent to harm or malice to anyone; the data collected is from public records and from families involved, and provided to me with no limitation on their use of material given me. I would add, that in some cases I had only the name of the father or the mpther, and had to make decision on providing data I had with that one parent or omitting it entirely. I chose to use what I was provided, or found in records, and to add missing parent names as they became available.

Some who read through this work will have answers and names that have eluded me, and I welcome their information as a means to ensuring a more accurate database for genealogical research.

Preface

In my long struggle to trace the lines of my wife's family, I have learned that patience above all else is a necessity.

Too often I have noted in reviewing work provided to me, or listed in Forums or Family Web Sites, that many mistakes distract from the effort put forth by the researchers. The similarity in names has created more mistakes and false information than one can imagine. I urge all who research, to look before they leap; do not assume that someone with same name (ie, Jean Baptiste, Marie, Joseph and many others) were/are common, and that can lead one off course.

I would like to point out some facts that many still refuse to accept; however, the truth is the truth regardless of how one paints it. There are many “old wives tales” attached to Francois Broussard, and unfortunately used by many.

First, there is no connection between the Nicolas Broussard Line of France and Quebec, and the Francois Line of Acadia. To verify this fact, DNA test were performed by multiple volunteers from each line, and the results were that no link exists between the two lines!

Second, Francois did not have a first name Jean; that was proven by Stephen White, the noted genealogist of Moncton University in New Brunswick, Canada.

Third, Francois did not arrive in Acadia aboard the ship l’Oranger; the ship never sailed to Acadia. A check of manifests on voyages the ship did make reveal no Broussard was aboard as a crewman or as a passenger.

Mr. Stephen White also has provided data from Canadian Archives that record Francois buying clothing from the widow of a trapper that drowned while collecting pelts from traps. This event precluded the supposed date of arrival from France.

Lastly, do we know the parents of Francois? No, although the search continues. Does this or any other books, THUMB DRIVE or CD’s have all the Broussard data? No! I doubt that anyone will ever have it all; however, updates from researchers and family can make it nearer to being complete. So, you are invited to contribute by providing names that are missing, or misspelled.
