

Colonial Louisiana Records

Collection 329

Microfilm: 1292 reels

Introduction:

The Colonial Louisiana Records Collection was established by the Center for Louisiana Studies to gather primary source materials from repositories in France, Spain and North America. Drawn from French and Spanish colonial archives, the British Museum and Public Records Office, and various state and parish repositories, the collection focuses on the history of European settlement in the Mississippi Valley, New France, Acadia, Ile Royale, and the French Antilles. The Microfilm was transferred to the University Archives and Acadiana Manuscripts Collection in May 2013.

Parish records received with the colonial records were transferred to separate collections. See Ascension Parish Records, Coll. 351; Assumption Parish Records, Coll. 352; Avoyelles Parish Colonial Records, Coll. 129; East Baton Rouge Parish Civil Records, Coll. 131; Iberia Parish Records, Coll. 353; Iberville Parish Records, Coll. 354; Lafayette Parish Police Jury Records, Coll. 361; Orleans Parish Notarial Records, Coll. 355; Pointe Coupee Parish Records, Coll. 356; St. Charles Parish Court Records, Coll. 152; St. James Parish Records, Coll. 357; St. John the Baptist Parish Records, Coll. 360; St. Martin Parish Records, Coll. 358; St. Mary Parish Records, Coll. 359; and West Feliciana Parish Civil Records, Coll. 370.

Catholic Church records were transferred to Coll. 365.

For a further description of the Colonial Louisiana Records Collection, see Carl A. Brasseaux, "The Colonial Records Collection of the Center for Louisiana Studies", Louisiana History XXV: 181-188, Spring 1984.
