One Hundred and Fifty Years of Progress
Reflected at Academy of The Sacred Heart

BEGINNING IN A NEW LAND — The Religious of the Sacred Heart who came from St. Louis, after remaining an hour from Mrs. Charles Smith of the county of land, by purchase, a house and school in 1900, at the present location of Our Lady of Lourdes High School, on the corner of I Street and Fifth Avenue, at the sacred heart of the Sacred Heart.

Writer And, the first to begin school and the first to teach, they were later replaced by the Sisters of St. Joseph of the Sacred Heart. The school was founded in 1896, and the first classes were held in a small building on the corner of Fifth Avenue and Main Street. The school was later moved to a larger building on the corner of First Street and Main Street, and then to a larger building on the corner of Fourth Avenue and Main Street.

VARIETY BACKGROUNDS — Eight from many varied backgrounds are registered at The Academy of the Sacred Heart. Those in picture are: left, Helen Rees, (Missouri), Mary Smith, (Missouri), and Helen Smith, (Iowa). On the right are: Dorothy Rees, (Missouri), and Betty Smith, (Missouri).

The academy was built on the corner of Second Avenue and Main Street, and was later moved to the corner of First Street and Main Street. The school was later moved to a larger building on the corner of Fourth Avenue and Main Street, and then to a larger building on the corner of Fifth Avenue and Main Street.

MODERN DAY STUDENTS — Modern day students, dressed in the traditional uniforms of the Sacred Heart, study in one of the academic classrooms of the academy.

"It is the goal for education, clarity, and power, this is our time for passion, but it is time for empowering talents." — St. Paul of Mosis, Holy Cross College professor.