LOUISIANA FLOOD
MAY-JUNE, 1927

Main Street Hotel Barrow, New Iberia, La.

Break in Port Barre, La. La Rose Levee
Top—Looking east from Cecilia, Miss. Pacific Railway tracks in foreground; from here the water extended north 90 miles.
Center—High School, Cecilia.
Bottom—Star Salt Co. (at right) and Baldwin Lumber Co., Lafayette, La., water here was 10 feet deep.
Top—On the levee at Borodino, near Bordeloville when the Atchafalaya levee went out. Bottoom—The home of A. H. Balch of Borodino was cleft in twain when the levee went out with a mad roar.
Reading from Top to Bottom—
1. Municipal Docks, La.
2. Back water in streets, Baton Rouge, La.
4. Our Lady of Lake Sanitarium, Baton Rouge.

Top—Brioux Bridge, Lafayette
Center—Evangeline Oak, St. Martinville.
Bottom—St. Martinville and Evangeline Oak.
Top—Voorhies Hotel, St. Martinville, La.
Bottom—Aramville, La.

Top—The Old Trading Post, St. Martinville, La.
Bottom—Light Plant and Evangeline Oak, St. Martinville, La.

Top—Railway Crossing, Beaux Bridge
Bottom—St. John’s Plantation, near Lafayette, La.

Top—Cecilia Bridge, floated from its foundation; only one not washed away in this region.
Bottom—Aire in Hutte near Lafayette, where the railway was so gullied out that the ties stood up on end.
Railway Depot, Vidalia, La., opposite Natchez

Vidalia, La., inundated by flood

Scenes at Melville, La.