Summer meansfestival time — time to get out the maps, travel brochures, movie tickets and calendars and play the annual game known as somewhere else.

Where will it be — adventure or relaxation, something of interest or just plain ol' travel, trains, planes, or cars?

A suggestion — any home and travel and one name of the many beautiful communities the United States has to offer.

Take a tour through Lafayet-eille — city of some of the finest homes nestled in your back yard fishing world — the Lafayette Museum, with its wonderful collection of Acadian reminisces and our home's history, is a must for anyone visiting the area. The Lafayette Museum is open daily except tours, noon and 2 p.m., and the hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The museum is located at 50 LaSalle Street.

In the area, the Cathedral of the Assumption is a must see. The cathedral is situated in the heart of old town and hotels, many of which offer entertainment and fine dining. Spend a little time in the earth of history and be the heart of New Orleans.

In this area, the Queen of Spain is a must see. It is located in the heart of the French Quarter and is merit for its unique architecture and history. It is considered one of the most beautiful homes in the area.

Not to be missed is the Louisiana State Capitol, located on St. Charles Avenue. The building is a classic example of early American architecture and is open to the public daily except Sunday.

Traveling westward, the Mississippi River, known as the "Queen of the Mississippi," offers a variety of activities, from river boat rides to fishing trips. The river is also home to a number of nesting birds and wildlife. The Mississippi River is also home to a number of nesting birds and wildlife. The river is
