Acadians Mark 200th Year in Louisiana

by F. K. Huguenot

Five years ago the 200th anniversary of the establishment of the Acadian home in the United States was observed, primarily in New Orleans, but locally in the Acadia

This year the 200th anniversary will be celebrated in more than one place.

In Lafayette, the 200th anniversary of the settlement of the Acadian town of New Orleans will be observed. The old Acadian town of New Orleans was established in 1718 by General Manuel de Villegas, a lieutenant colonel in the Spanish army, who was sent by the Spanish government to America to establish a settlement in Louisiana. The town was founded on the site of the present-day city of New Orleans. The town was named in honor of the town of Orleans in France, where General de Villegas was born. The town was the first European settlement in what is now the United States.

Two years ago, in 1913, the 200th anniversary of the settlement of the town of New Orleans was celebrated with a grand festival.

The festival included a parade, a firework display, and a grand banquet. The festival was attended by thousands of people, and it was a great success.

In Lafayette, the 200th anniversary of the settlement of the town of New Orleans will be celebrated with a similar festival. The festival will include a parade, a firework display, and a grand banquet. The festival will be attended by thousands of people, and it is expected to be a great success.

The festival will be held on April 25, 1915, in Lafayette.

The festival will start with a parade through the streets of Lafayette. The parade will be led by the Lafayette Fire Department, and it will be followed by the Lafayette Police Department, the Lafayette Fire Department, and the Lafayette Police Department. The parade will be followed by a firework display.

The firework display will be held on the lawn of the Lafayette City Hall. The firework display will be sponsored by the Lafayette Fire Department, and it will be a display of aerial fireworks. The firework display will be a great spectacle, and it is expected to attract thousands of people.

The festival will end with a grand banquet in the Lafayette City Hall. The banquet will be sponsored by the Lafayette City Council, and it will be a dinner of gourmet food. The banquet will be a great event, and it is expected to be attended by thousands of people.

The festival will be sponsored by the Lafayette City Council, and it is expected to be a great success. The festival will be a time of celebration, and it is expected to bring together the people of Lafayette in a spirit of unity and community.