French Play and Banquet

Growing in size and enthusiasm, the Acadian Festival was held yesterday afternoon at the Lafayette Club. A large crowd attended and enjoyed the events of the day.

The activities included a French play, a concert, and a banquet.

The play, entitled "Le Diable au Corps," was performed by a group of French-speaking actors from the nearby area.

A French orchestra provided music for the evening, and the banquet featured traditional Acadian cuisine.

The Acadian Festival is an annual event that celebrates the culture and history of the Acadian people in Louisiana. It includes a variety of events, such as traditional dances, music, and food.

The festival has been held for many years and continues to attract visitors from all over the country.

Acadians From Canada Will Arrive Friday

A delegation of Acadians from Canada is expected to arrive in Lafayette on Friday. The group will be welcomed with a special ceremony.

The delegation will be led by Mr. and Mrs. Jean Lavoie, who are representatives of the Acadian Association.

The group will be greeted at the airport by Mayor Charles B. Hand, who will introduce them to the Acadian community.

The delegation will then proceed to the Lafayette Club, where a special reception will be held in their honor.

The Acadians will be accompanied by a band and a parade of children dressed in traditional Acadian costumes.

The Acadians will be welcomed with open arms and a warm reception, and their visit is expected to boost tourism and cultural exchange between Canada and Lafayette.
