The "hole" is beginning to take shape! You are looking at the west side stands of the new stadium which will be to the left as you enter from Congress Street. Clearly recognizable is the construction work on the second deck on top of which will be the press box planned to accommodate 200 working press representatives. The east side stands will be a single tier for the present, but constructed to take care of additional decks in the future. This initial construction will provide seating for 26,000 fans, but plans call for ultimately seating 35,000. Possible future expansion, that is closing in the end zones, would provide seating for 70,000.

The field, 24 feet below ground level, was planted in grass in September. Occupancy is promised for the fall of 1970.
GREETINGS FROM USL'S PRESIDENT

Dear Southwesterners:

The prestige of being a Southwestern graduate increases as the years go by. In checking the outstanding achievements of our graduates we find that they have distinguished themselves in every field of endeavor. We are proud of our graduates.

Matching our pride in you, our alumni, is the warmth of the welcome we extend to you to visit the campus at any and every opportunity you may have. It is especially gratifying to know that your interest in your Alma Mater is enduring and we hope that many of you will be with us to participate in the festivities at Homecoming.

We look forward to seeing you on November 15th.

Clyde L. Rougeou, President

ALUMNI PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Fellow Alumni:

At this Homecoming, I am delighted to see the interest and enthusiasm that alumni, students, and faculty are showing toward building a greater USL.

We of USL have much of which to be proud in past accomplishments. The future gives us equal cause for optimism. I join with the Alumni Association in extending a warm welcome to all Southwesterners to attend Homecoming on November 15, 1969.

Vernon Bell, President
USL Alumni Association
