Apres Tout

By Clarine Justice
Women's Home Reporter

When the house was built over twenty years ago it stood on the midst of former fields. When the house was purchased by the present owners the land had been turned over to Non-Commissioned Army officers and the old barn had been torn down. The land was then cleared and the house was built in 1920. It was built of brick and had a large basement. The basement was used for storing hay and other farm supplies.

The house was painted white and had a large veranda. The veranda was enclosed with glass and had a large table and chairs. The house was then furnished with new furniture and the family moved into it in 1921.

The family moved into the house and the children were born. The children were Robert, John, and Mary. Robert was the oldest and was born in 1922. John was born in 1924 and Mary was born in 1926.

The family lived in the house for many years and the children grew up in it. The children were educated at the local school and went on to college. They all served in the Armed Forces during World War II and were active in the community.

The house was then sold to new owners who continued to live in it. The family moved out and the house was remodeled. The family then rented the house to others and it was eventually sold to new owners.

The family has always been active in the community and has participated in many local activities. They have been members of the local church and have volunteered at the local hospital. They have also been active in the local community and have helped with many local projects.

The family has always been proud of the house and has taken great care of it. They have always been active in the community and have helped with many local projects. They have always been active in the community and have helped with many local projects.