ARTS COUNCIL PROGRAMS

Goal Close To Realization

By TOM ROBSON
Acadiana Arts Council Director

Since its beginning in October, 1973, the Acadiana Arts Council has worked toward the goal of placing all the arts in Lafayette under one umbrella. Current activities and accomplishments indicate that this goal is nearing reality.

The active organization, under the leadership of Larry Godbold, director, has launched into many projects and programs, some of them with major impact upon the community. The most prominent of these is the recently established "Acadiana Performing Arts Center." The Center, managed by John Godbold, was a major accomplishment for the Council.

The Council was also instrumental in the creation of the "Acadiana Performing Arts Center," a multi-purpose facility that will house a number of community arts organizations, including the Acadiana Symphony Orchestra, the Lafayette Civic Theatre, the Lafayette Playhouse, and various dance groups. The Center will serve as a focal point for the arts in the area, providing a venue for concerts, theatrical productions, and other artistic events.

As a central source of information concerning the arts, the Acadiana Arts Council serves as a clearinghouse for information, offering resources to individuals and groups interested in the arts. The Council provides information on arts events, workshops, classes, and other opportunities for the community.

Several projects are underway, which should have the purpose of exposing the arts to a wider audience. The Council is planning a series of lectures and workshops, as well as a public art project, to raise awareness of the arts in the community. The Council is also working on a cultural heritage project, which will document and preserve the rich cultural heritage of the Acadiana region.

The Council has recently been awarded a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts, which will provide funding for a number of new projects. The Council is grateful for this support and is committed to continuing its efforts to promote the arts in the community.

The Acadiana Arts Council is dedicated to making the arts accessible to all people, regardless of age, gender, or background. The Council is committed to providing opportunities for all members of the community to participate in and enjoy the arts.

The Council is committed to working closely with other arts organizations in the area, as well as with local and national arts groups, to ensure that the arts are an integral part of our community. The Council is proud of the progress it has made thus far, and looks forward to continuing its efforts in the future.

The Acadiana Arts Council is a vital force in the cultural life of Lafayette. With its dedication to promoting the arts, the Council has made significant contributions to the community. The Council is committed to continuing its efforts to improve the arts in the area, and to ensuring that the arts are available to all members of the community.

The Acadiana Arts Council is a true asset to the community, and its success is a result of the hard work and dedication of its members. The Council is grateful for the support of the community, and is committed to continuing its efforts to promote the arts in the future.
