A bucket crane is used to build up some of the little Vs or horsehoes, and a dredge shoots sediment into the area behind the dikes. Islands created this spring already have grass growing and birds nesting on them.