Magnolia Mound Plantation, one of Louisiana's oldest wooden structures, lets you experience life in the 18th century. Representing a working plantation, Magnolia Mound raises much of what is prepared in weekly open-hearth cooking demonstrations.

Once inside the home, costumed docents describe the authentic collection of Federal style furniture used in the 1700's. Magnolia Mound was built on a natural ridge facing the Mississippi and today stands in tribute to the way early plantations used to be.
