Two percent across-the-board salary cut. Broussard added he would recommend the school board take the same percentage cut as school employees.

- Require local schools to pay postage expenses from their own accounts instead of the general fund.

Superintendent Larry Broussard also outlined several long-range savings which would require review by the board’s policy committee.

Those long-range savings would center on staff attrition, including not replacing an assistant superintendent, if one retires; establishing a formula for the appointment of assistant principals to avoid overstaffing; and consolidating principals through attrition in communities that have two schools, specifically Bayou Chico, Basile and Chataignier.

Broussard emphasized that the alternatives “are only recommendations” and the final decision rests with the school board.
