IN THE BASIN — Representatives of the National Audubon Society braved the rain Sunday afternoon for a canoe tour of the Atchafalaya Basin to assess the impact of federal plans for the vast area of swamps, streams and bayous. Above, a pair of canoeists make their way through the knees of a stand of cypress. (Staff Photo by P.C. Piazza)