Baton Rouge hosted Special Olympics

Mrs. Eustice Kennedy Shriver, founder of Special Olympics and head of the Foundation, also handed praise for the success of the 1983 Summer Games.

"Frankly, they're the best we've ever had... so far," Mrs. Shriver said.

JAPAN'S DELEGATION TO OLYMPICS

Where fashion is more than a look, It's your lifestyle.

Exciting and new... Baton Rouge's only fashion district, featuring quality merchants in a specially designed setting. The Fashion Park at Cortana... where fashion is more than a look, it's your lifestyle.

GET TO KNOW BATON ROUGE

"I'm not sure," she told the Times-Picayune. "I think I'd stick to the hotel on the river..."

"I think I'd stick to the hotel on the river..."

CATTISS TOWN restoration

By CARL REDMAN
Assistant city editor

Nestled amongst the river, and the old iron fence, Cattiss Town now has a ghostly, deserted appearance at night.

But, by day, the area presents a very different picture as workers begin to clear rubbish and clean up their facades.

And in less than a year, the old Cattiss Town warehouse district will attract millions of dollars in planned re-development.

Phase I of the Cattiss Town project saw developers spend nearly $10 million for restoration and rehabilitation of two old buildings to provide about 72,000 square feet of space, which is leased out, according to John Lombardi, project manager for the developer.

And developers frankly admit that Cattiss Town would not have existed by any standards without local tax incentives and government commitments.

And for the next 15 years, while developers are re-producing the city-park for a $25 million mass of urban development Action Committee which is the profit for the project, with the city, Lombardi said.

"We'd be a lot of people interested in this, but it doesn't mean anything," Andy says. "No, we'd be a lot of people interested in this, but it doesn't mean that we're going to buy the property and nurse them along." We're going to have to be a lot of people interested in this, but it doesn't mean that we're going to buy the property and nurse them along.

Senator and reps.

(Continued from Page 8)

Lombardi's office is located in Alexandria.

The state's other congressmen said:

"Robert Livingston, a Republican, has represented the state's 1st District since being elected in August of 1971. Livingston's district is generally located on the eastern portion of New Orleans and is the easternmost district in the state."

"Lindsey B. Burgun, a Democrat, has represented the Congressional District since being elected in 1960. Burgun's district includes most of the northern portion of New Orleans and has the highest rate of black voters in the state."

"Billy Tauzin, a Democrat, has represented this district since 1960. He has previously served as a member of the state House of Representatives. Tauzin is a district attorney from the Jefferson Parish seat of New Orleans, and has represented the area for over 30 years."

"Charles R. Broom, a Democrat, was elected to represent the 8th District in 1989 after

(Continued on Page 16)