Steve Lawson

Lawson to be ordained deacon Nov. 6

KAPLAN

Steve Lawson will be ordained a transitional deacon here by Bishop Gerard L. Frey of Lafayette. The ordination will take place during the 5 p.m. anticipated Mass on Saturday, Nov. 6 in Our Lady of the Holy Rosary Church.

Lawson, who is doing his deacon internship at Holy Rosary-Cabrini Parish here, expects to be ordained to the priesthood for the Diocese of Lafayette in May, 1983.

Lawson made his seminary studies at Notre Dame Seminary, New Orleans, where he worked on a master of divinity degree. He served as president of the student body and a member of the board of trustees.

A native of Boston, Mass., Lawson is the son of Mrs. Mary G. Lawson and the late John F. Lawson. He earned a B.A. degree from High Point College, North Carolina, and was employed with the Atlanta area council, Boy Scouts of America.

He also worked for the Olivetti Corporation of America and was a member of the Metropolitan Atlanta Ecumenical Commission. As a member of Holy Family church parish he was a catechist and lector and worked with high-school youth, singles, separated and divorced.

He entered Notre Dame Seminary in (Continued on page two)
Lawson

(Continued from page one) 1979 and attended Tulane and Loyola Universities in New Orleans for studies in philosophy. In New Orleans he worked in St. Matthias, St. Francis Xavier Cabrini and St. Joseph the Worker parishes, as well as DePaul Hospital. He completed a clinical pastoral course at University of Iowa hospitals and clinics, Iowa City, Iowa.

In the Diocese of Lafayette he has also worked in Sts. Peter and Paul Parish, Scott.