Serenity — This statue stands in front of Mt. Carmel Academy in New Iberia where the shade from aging oaks casts a serene mood over the grounds of the school. The site was purchased in 1872 for a boarding and day school for girls. An old home belonging to the Dupont family was originally on the site but was expanded. The home is still a part of the school, housing the library downstairs and the math lab, campus minister’s suite and guidance offices upstairs. (Staff Photo By Greg Servedio)
