Congress spirit not dampened

Unlike the forced march to débâcle battles 250 years ago, Acadians here by motorcars or by foot, arrived here voluntarily to help celebrate Congress. If all goes well, Acadian workers will be employed in the construction of the Congress, which will take place in the Louisiana Centennial Exposition plaza.

Page 7A

Scenes like this one will be seen often during the Congress. The Congress was to be held in the Louisiana Centennial Exposition plaza.

Exhibition: The Congress was to be held in the Louisiana Centennial Exposition plaza.

Congress

The emphasis on Louisiana, and particularly the contributions of Acadians, is evident in the Congress program. The Acadian influence is reflected in the names of the events, the music, and the food. The Acadian cuisine is a major attraction, with dishes such as jambalaya, crawfish etouffée, and red beans and rice. The music includes traditional Acadian songs, plus jazz and blues. The Acadian influence is also evident in the architecture of the Congress, with a theme that pays homage to the Acadian heritage.

The Congress is expected to attract a large number of visitors, who will come to experience the Acadian culture and enjoy the festivities. The Congress is scheduled to run from May 1 to July 4, and is expected to draw visitors from all over the world. The Congress is expected to be a major boost to the local economy, with an estimated economic impact of $1 billion.

Continued from Page 7A

The Congress

The Congress has been a source of pride for Louisiana, and has been a major event in the state's history. The Congress was held in the early 20th century, and was a celebration of Louisiana's French and Creole heritage. The Congress was a time of music, dance, and celebration, and was a major tourist attraction.

The Congress is expected to be a major event in Louisiana's history, and is expected to draw visitors from all over the world. The Congress is scheduled to run from May 1 to July 4, and is expected to draw visitors from all over the world. The Congress is expected to be a major boost to the local economy, with an estimated economic impact of $1 billion.