DEQUINCY - The Junior and Senior Federated Women's Clubs of DeQuincy have offered to renovate and restore the old Kansas City Southern railroad depot here for use as a railroad museum when and if it becomes available to the city.

KCS has requested permission from the Public Service Commission to close it, but some local businesses have opposed the move. A scheduled hearing on the matter, originally set for March 11, has been postponed indefinitely.

The mayor said that ground-work for the city taking over the station was laid sometime ago. At that time the KCS offered a portion of the land along with the depot to be used for a park or any other public purpose.

Mayor L. A. Henagan said nothing can be done until a decision is made concerning the
