Laissez Les Bons Temps Rouler

by Jaimie Hebert

Abbeville, Louisiana—November 3, 1989

Friday, November 3, 1989

On September 4, 1987, the first Laissez Les Bons Temps Rouler festival was held in Abbeville. Festival was held in honor of the dairy farmers in Vermilion Parish. It has since become a three-day event. The festival has been held every year since then.

The festival was started in 1986 by Roy Tarin, a farmer from Vermilion Parish. The festival was held to raise money for the Vermilion Parish Dairy Cooperative. The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country. The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country.

The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country. The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country.

The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country. The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country.

The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country. The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country.

The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country. The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country.

The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country. The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country.

The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country. The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country.

The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country. The festival was held in Vermilion Parish, in the heart of the Louisiana Dairy Country.