'NIXON SINCERE,'
LUCENT STATES
French Envoy Presents
Vigilant on War

By DON LEWIS

The ambassador of France in the United States said here Friday the American government should be congratulated for its peaceful approach to the war in Vietnam.

Charles Lucet made the statement during a press conference at the Royal Orleans Hotel, where he attended a luncheon in honor of the French ambassador to the United States and his wife at the French Consulate in New Orleans.

The ambassador presented a letter to President Nixon that placed in question the words &dquo;ambassador&dquo; and &dquo;French&dquo; in reference to the ambassador of France to the United States.

When asked whether the ambassador of France to the United States was the &dquo;French ambassador&dquo; to the United States, which is called &dquo;the United States&dquo; and &dquo;French&dquo; in reference to the United States, the ambassador replied:

&dquo;I am the ambassador of France to the United States.&dquo;

The ambassador said the letter was the result of a request from the French foreign minister for the ambassador to present a letter to President Nixon on the subject of the war in Vietnam.

The ambassador said that the letter was &dquo;in the best tradition of France and the American government.&dquo;

Washington, D.C., March 24—The French ambassador to the United States, Charles Lucet, and his wife, Mrs. Lucet, were honored at a luncheon at the French Embassy in Washington. The luncheon was attended by President Nixon and his wife, Mrs. Nixon, and a number of other dignitaries.

The ambassador said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam. He also said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—President Nixon today met with the French ambassador to the United States, Charles Lucet, and his wife, Mrs. Lucet, at the White House.

The ambassador said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam. He also said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—President Nixon today met with the French ambassador to the United States, Charles Lucet, and his wife, Mrs. Lucet, at the White House.

The ambassador said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam. He also said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—President Nixon today met with the French ambassador to the United States, Charles Lucet, and his wife, Mrs. Lucet, at the White House.

The ambassador said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam. He also said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—President Nixon today met with the French ambassador to the United States, Charles Lucet, and his wife, Mrs. Lucet, at the White House.

The ambassador said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam. He also said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—President Nixon today met with the French ambassador to the United States, Charles Lucet, and his wife, Mrs. Lucet, at the White House.

The ambassador said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam. He also said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—President Nixon today met with the French ambassador to the United States, Charles Lucet, and his wife, Mrs. Lucet, at the White House.

The ambassador said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam. He also said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—President Nixon today met with the French ambassador to the United States, Charles Lucet, and his wife, Mrs. Lucet, at the White House.

The ambassador said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam. He also said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—President Nixon today met with the French ambassador to the United States, Charles Lucet, and his wife, Mrs. Lucet, at the White House.

The ambassador said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam. He also said that the French government would continue to support the United States in its efforts to achieve a peaceful solution to the war in Vietnam.