French in Louisiana Group to Sign Up New Chapters

(LAFAYETTE, La. — The movement to preserve and develop Louisiana's French heritage hopes to gain ground as two more parishes prepare to form chapters of The Council for the Development of French in Louisiana (CODOFIL).)

In a letter to residents of Iberia and Evangeline parishes, Domengeaux wrote, "It is absolutely necessary to develop grass-roots participation in the movement is an "indispensable" factor in preserving the language and heritage, he said."

Local participation in the movement is an "indispensable" factor in preserving the language and heritage, he said.

Formation of these two CODOFIL chapters will bring the number of parish chapters to four. Chapters have already been formed in St. Martin and Orleans parishes. One CODOFIL goal is the formation of chapters in each of the state's 64 parishes, according to James Domengeaux, CODOFIL chairman.

A chapted organizational meeting for Iberia Parish is set for Sept. 21 at 7 p.m. in New Iberia at the parish court house. The same kind of meeting will be held Sept. 22 at 7:30 p.m. in Ville Platte at Evangeline Parish Court House.

Formation of these two CODOFIL chapters will bring the number of parish chapters to four. Chapters have already been formed in St. Martin and Orleans parishes. One CODOFIL goal is the formation of chapters in each of the state's 64 parishes, according to James Domengeaux, CODOFIL chairman.

In a letter to residents of Iberia and Evangeline parishes, Domengeaux wrote, "It is absolutely necessary to develop grass-roots participation in the movement is an "indispensable" factor in preserving the language and heritage, he said."

Local participation in the movement is an "indispensable" factor in preserving the language and heritage, he said.

CODOFIL is a state agency, created by the legislature in 1968, to preserve, expand and improve the French language in the state.

Times-Picayune, Sept. 19, 1970
S. 1, p. 19, c. 4-5