French-Spanish Turn Planned at Session

By Staff of the Times-Picayune

The International Relations Association of Acadia (TIRAA), scheduled to meet in New Orleans this week, plans to devote half its agenda to 15 international topics.

The association, which meets biannually in New Orleans, is composed of business and professional leaders from Louisiana and Quebec.

The meeting will focus on French-Spanish relations and the role of the French- and Spanish-speaking regions in the world economy.

WELCOME IS SET

Civic leaders, local business leaders, and visitors from around the world will be welcomed by the TIRAA board of directors.

The meeting will feature a variety of speakers, including academics, business leaders, and government officials.

The main topics to be discussed include:

- The role of TIRAA in promoting cultural exchange
- The impact of international trade on the local economy
- The challenges of international diplomacy

The meeting will conclude with a social event, providing an opportunity for attendees to network and discuss the day's topics.
