"We are dedicated to the preservation of the American Alligator and believe that by raising them and finding ways to market them we contribute to their ultimate survival. Our farm is unique, we think, in a great many ways. Most people who visit us are fascinated by what they are able to observe as they watch our operations. We have (literally) thousands of alligators and have been raising them for nearly two decades. And we have production facilities for turtles that will interest you as well, although it is our breeding stock of alligators that will probably be most exciting to you (if you're like most of our visitors). We invite you to come learn about this most unique operation. We look forward to seeing you."
