If you're a Cajunophile (and know enough French to hold your own in conversation), Arnaudville's La Table Française is an event worth checking out.

On the last Saturday of each month from 9 a.m. to noon at Town Market, La Table Française gathers people from across the Acadiana area for coffee, conversation and a dose of Cajun culture.

"The only language spoken is French," Mavis Fruge, the event's founder, says. "There are stories, music, poems — anything goes."

The informal event has a loyal following, Fruge said, and has attracted visitors from around the world — all in celebration of the local language.

So what about non-French speakers interested in taking a seat at La Table?

"You're welcome to sit back and enjoy the exchanges," Fruge says. "Everyone's welcome."
