MEDICAL SCIENCES BUILDING — Now under construction at the University of Southwestern Louisiana is this medical sciences building to house the College of Nursing and the department of microbiology. The studio and control room for the educational television facilities will also be in this building. A fourth and fifth floor will be added to the structure with funds provided by a cash grant of $500,000 made to USL last March by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare plus $325,000 by sale of bonds and an additional $675,000 available under Title III of the Federal Government.