Mulates Cajun Restaurant in Breaux Bridge has delicious seafood and live Cajun music

One of the popular dishes at Mulates Cajun Restaurant in Breaux Bridge is the seafood platter.

"Where else can you get a seafood platter with this quality and variety of seafood for such a price?" asks Kerry Boutte, owner and manager.

The delicious and mouth-watering assortment includes stuffed crab, fried shrimp, fried oysters, fried catfish, stuffed pepper with crabmeat dressing, and seafood jambalaya made according to Boutte's own recipe. Of course there is also cole slaw, homemade French fries, tartar sauce, and bread. All of this is served for only $7.95.

The seafood platter offers a delicious cross-section of the menu at Mulates which also features stuffed mushrooms and Oysters prepared from original recipes developed by Boutte.

Boutte has had considerable experience in fine restaurants throughout the South and personally supervises the preparation of the food.

Diners can not only find delicious seafood and steaks, but on Wednesday and Thursday evenings there is live Cajun music from such well-known musicians as Zachary Richard or Mike Doucet and others.

In other words, Mulates in Breaux Bridge is just what you're looking for if you've been searching for authentic Cajun food atmosphere.

The restaurant, located on the outskirts of Breaux Bridge, is open six days a week. On Monday through Friday, it is open from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. On Saturdays it is open from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. It is closed on Sundays.

"For a long time, I've wanted to have a place like this," says Boutte. "I wanted to capture something essential about Cajun food and entertainment. This is what Mulates has become.

"The prices are reasonable, the music enjoyable, and the atmosphere authentically Cajun. Come and dine with us," Boutte says.
