A recommendation to relocate the athletic plant from its present site on St. Mary Boulevard to the new location on Bertrand Drive was made by the committee last night.

The recommendation came following a study by the incoming President Clyde L. Rougeou, to look into the matter. The new relocation plan would consist of a baseball stadium, a billboard, a track, practice fields for all sports, a large parking area, and at the same time provide for adequate USL athletic facilities.

Heymann said following their study, which revealed the need to relocate and to build new athletic facilities, the plan was discussed with and approved by area legislators. Members of the committee, in addition to Heymann, are D. S. "Shine" Young, representative of the Southwestern Athletic Committee; Richard D'Agui, publisher and general manager of The Daily Advertiser; Dud Luttringer, KLFY's news director; Bill Paon, KATC manager; Roy O'Connell, Lafayette Chamber of Commerce; M. L. "Tigue" Moore, Century Club president; "Whitey" Urban, USL director of athletics; J. Rayburn Bertrand, mayor of Lafayette; William T. Bass, alumni director.

The proposed plan (as shown in the accompanying architect's drawing) includes a new, enlarged stadium with a grandstand, a new baseball field, including a new grandstand, and ample parking space provided. In the drawing, the parking area is shown as the two large rectangles with vertical lines. In the midst of the plant is a proposed dormitory that would be built with revenue-producing bonds. To the left of the dormitory, a new baseball field, including a grandstand, would be constructed.

Behind the stadium, the school track would be continued, thus keeping the turf in better condition as it would receive any wear from events. Also to be included in the immediate area would be tennis courts for all sports. The new plant would be reached from the fic arteries connecting Bertrand Drive.
