The Delgado's "Odyssey" exhibit was previewed at a gala fund-raising ball Friday night.
It will be opened to the public, however, at 1 p.m. this Sunday.
A reception was held at the Delgado Art Museum, and a free, non-juried exhibition was pre-viewed.

The exhibit is open until Nov. 18, and will feature work by some of the leading artists of the city and the South, including works by such well-known artists as Peter Voulkos, John Bach, Albert Oehlen, and Byron Brown. The exhibit is intended to provide a comprehensive overview of the art of the South, and it will be on display to the public.

The reception was held in the Delgado Art Museum's newly expanded galleries, which are now open to the public. The museum has undergone several major renovations in recent years, including the addition of new galleries and the expansion of existing ones. The museum now hosts a variety of exhibitions, including both juried and non-juried shows.

The exhibit, which is part of the museum's ongoing series of important exhibitions, will be open to the public on a daily basis. The museum is open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., except on Sundays, when it is open from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. The museum is located at 331 Garner Street, in the heart of the Central Business District.
