Lafayette has come a long way to reach its present position as the Grade A Center of the milk industry in Southwest Louisiana. The first great stride towards its present position was taken in 1928 by the above group of men who visited, en masse, the Mississippi Dairy Section to study that area's progressive steps in the dairy industry.

Standing in front of bus, 1st row, left to right: Rene LeBlanc, J. R. Jeanmard and the late Gov. Huey P. Long.

Standing in front of bus, 3rd row, left to right: Bus Driver and Ben J. Williams.

Top of bus, sitting left to right: Pierre Sellers, Leonce Prejean, Albert Mouton, J. J. Fournet, and J. Hebert Comeaux.