The largest of the state’s parks, Chicot is situated around a 3,000-acre, mature beech-magnolia forest with a variety of outdoor activities as fishing, hiking and camping.

The largest state-supported arboretum in the country, this preserve contains museum of trees, shrubs and woody vines within a 300-acre, mature beech-magnolia forest.