Abortion override fails
Sunday vote is opponents' final chance

Ed Receves/Peaks, Page 8A

As the abortion debate raged, opponents of the state's new law took their message to the streets. A woman holds a sign that reads, "Church and State," in protest of the law. Opponents argued that the law violated their rights.

Martin Varner is an advocate from Covington, shouts, "Sustain, sustain, sustain!" other outside the Capitol.

Abortion activists are shown praying during a pro-life rally outside the Senate chambers Saturday.