Plans Call For
Rice Museum
To Open July 1

CROWLEY - A tentative date for the formal opening of the Rice Museum has been set for July 1, according to an announcement by Phillip Caffery, chairman.

An alternate of July 15 has been set in the event the museum is not completed by July 1.

Grand opening and education ceremonies for the museum will be held during the first day of the 1968 International Rice Festival.

"The museum will open complete with exhibits, refreshment room and souvenir shop," said Caffery. "We hope that improvement of the museum after it opens will be a continuing endeavor."

Caffery said that lifetime membership of $50 and an annual membership of $5 are still available. He also urges rice and allied interests to consider purchasing advertising space in the museum for their products and services.
