PLANTATION HOUSE HOUSING OVER TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

First Goal Is Achieved By River Road Unit

By JOSEPH A. LUCIA

Harold A. Cammell, Jr., president of the River Road Historical Society, received today the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Mrs. Myra Gungo, former president of the society and its legal advisor. Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

Harold Cammell, center, president of the River Road Historical Society, receives the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Myra Gungo. It is the first goal of the society and its legal advisor, Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

PLANTATION HOUSE HOUSING OVER TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

First Goal Is Achieved By River Road Unit

By JOSEPH A. LUCIA

Harold A. Cammell, Jr., president of the River Road Historical Society, received today the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Mrs. Myra Gungo, former president of the society and its legal advisor. Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

PLANTATION HOUSE HOUSING OVER TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

First Goal Is Achieved By River Road Unit

By JOSEPH A. LUCIA

Harold A. Cammell, Jr., president of the River Road Historical Society, received today the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Mrs. Myra Gungo, former president of the society and its legal advisor. Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

Harold Cammell, center, president of the River Road Historical Society, receives the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Myra Gungo. It is the first goal of the society and its legal advisor, Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

PLANTATION HOUSE HOUSING OVER TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

First Goal Is Achieved By River Road Unit

By JOSEPH A. LUCIA

Harold A. Cammell, Jr., president of the River Road Historical Society, received today the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Mrs. Myra Gungo, former president of the society and its legal advisor. Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

Harold Cammell, center, president of the River Road Historical Society, receives the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Myra Gungo. It is the first goal of the society and its legal advisor, Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

PLANTATION HOUSE HOUSING OVER TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

First Goal Is Achieved By River Road Unit

By JOSEPH A. LUCIA

Harold A. Cammell, Jr., president of the River Road Historical Society, received today the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Mrs. Myra Gungo, former president of the society and its legal advisor. Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

Harold Cammell, center, president of the River Road Historical Society, receives the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Myra Gungo. It is the first goal of the society and its legal advisor, Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

PLANTATION HOUSE HOUSING OVER TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

First Goal Is Achieved By River Road Unit

By JOSEPH A. LUCIA

Harold A. Cammell, Jr., president of the River Road Historical Society, received today the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Mrs. Myra Gungo, former president of the society and its legal advisor. Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

Harold Cammell, center, president of the River Road Historical Society, receives the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Myra Gungo. It is the first goal of the society and its legal advisor, Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

PLANTATION HOUSE HOUSING OVER TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

First Goal Is Achieved By River Road Unit

By JOSEPH A. LUCIA

Harold A. Cammell, Jr., president of the River Road Historical Society, received today the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Mrs. Myra Gungo, former president of the society and its legal advisor. Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

Harold Cammell, center, president of the River Road Historical Society, receives the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Myra Gungo. It is the first goal of the society and its legal advisor, Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

PLANTATION HOUSE HOUSING OVER TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

First Goal Is Achieved By River Road Unit

By JOSEPH A. LUCIA

Harold A. Cammell, Jr., president of the River Road Historical Society, received today the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Mrs. Myra Gungo, former president of the society and its legal advisor. Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

Harold Cammell, center, president of the River Road Historical Society, receives the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Myra Gungo. It is the first goal of the society and its legal advisor, Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

PLANTATION HOUSE HOUSING OVER TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

First Goal Is Achieved By River Road Unit

By JOSEPH A. LUCIA

Harold A. Cammell, Jr., president of the River Road Historical Society, received today the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Mrs. Myra Gungo, former president of the society and its legal advisor. Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

Harold Cammell, center, president of the River Road Historical Society, receives the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Myra Gungo. It is the first goal of the society and its legal advisor, Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

PLANTATION HOUSE HOUSING OVER TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

First Goal Is Achieved By River Road Unit

By JOSEPH A. LUCIA

Harold A. Cammell, Jr., president of the River Road Historical Society, received today the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Mrs. Myra Gungo, former president of the society and its legal advisor. Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

Harold Cammell, center, president of the River Road Historical Society, receives the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Myra Gungo. It is the first goal of the society and its legal advisor, Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

PLANTATION HOUSE HOUSING OVER TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

First Goal Is Achieved By River Road Unit

By JOSEPH A. LUCIA

Harold A. Cammell, Jr., president of the River Road Historical Society, received today the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Mrs. Myra Gungo, former president of the society and its legal advisor. Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

Harold Cammell, center, president of the River Road Historical Society, receives the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Myra Gungo. It is the first goal of the society and its legal advisor, Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

PLANTATION HOUSE HOUSING OVER TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

First Goal Is Achieved By River Road Unit

By JOSEPH A. LUCIA

Harold A. Cammell, Jr., president of the River Road Historical Society, received today the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Mrs. Myra Gungo, former president of the society and its legal advisor. Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

Harold Cammell, center, president of the River Road Historical Society, receives the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Myra Gungo. It is the first goal of the society and its legal advisor, Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

PLANTATION HOUSE HOUSING OVER TO HISTORICAL SOCIETY

First Goal Is Achieved By River Road Unit

By JOSEPH A. LUCIA

Harold A. Cammell, Jr., president of the River Road Historical Society, received today the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Mrs. Myra Gungo, former president of the society and its legal advisor. Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.

Harold Cammell, center, president of the River Road Historical Society, receives the deed to the Destrehan Plantation House from Myra Gungo. It is the first goal of the society and its legal advisor, Looking on is Myles Gungo, former president of the society. The antebellum house has been donated by the American Oil Co. to the society, which will restore the historic structure.