Mrs. Morgan, Instructor. The Colony of Shreveport, May 1964.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.

The group of local artists is most interested in portraying on canvas the Laura colony. There are many untouched scenes held by members of the colony. Many of the local artists say in drawing for a fee, the many insights and experiences in painting.