Rice Museum Opens Monday In Crowley

CROWLEY — The Crowley Rice Museum, a project of the Crowley Chamber of Commerce tourist committee, will be open to the public Monday.

Phillip Caffery, museum chairman, invited the public to attend the opening and to observe progress made in furnishing of the planned tourist attraction.

The museum is located on Highway 90 just west of Crowley on the site of the first rice experimental station in the state of Louisiana.

Official opening ceremonies are planned in early October on the occasion of the International Rice Festival, an annual event in Crowley.
