Shrimp Festival Begins To Roll During Festivities in Delcambre

DELCAMBRE — The shrimping industry will be honored at the annual Delcambre Shrimp Festival today through Sunday.

Today's activities include a continuation of last night's Family Night. The Shrimp Junior Queen will also be crowned tonight with a dance following the ceremony. The Shrimp Queen will be crowned tomorrow. She represents the shrimping industry at the Shrimp Festival as well as at various festivals throughout the state. The queen will be honored at a dance following the coronation ceremony.

Saturday, the Baby Shrimp King and Queen Contest will be held. Other activities include a performance by the United States Air Force Band, bingo games, and a 13.1 and a 7 mile mini-marathon. Saturday night features the music of Country Gold for a fais-do-do and street dancing.

The festival closes on Sunday with a fisherman's mass, the Blessing of the Fleet, and another performance of the United States Air Force Band.
