Another event of much interest on the campus of SLI this week was the visit of Miss Sarah Gibson Blanding, president of Vassar College in Poughkeepsie, N. Y. She was the only woman speaker on the special series planned by the college during its semi-centennial year.

Miss Blanding's visit to Lafayette was the occasion for a reunion with a friend of many years, Miss Agnes Edwards, dean of women at SLI. Miss Edwards (third from left, photo at left), who has charge of the tea being given today for Miss Soulier, entertained with an informal breakfast this week in honor of the Vassar president.

Guests, besides the honored one and the hostess, assisted by Miss Agnes Roth, were members of the Lafayette chapter of the American Association of University Women. Miss Roth and Miss Blanding are shown with Miss Edwards at left.
