LEGISLATURE'S NEW LOOK
South Central Parishes Get More Representation

Acadia's Loss in Senate

Acadia's representation in the Louisiana Senate has been reduced, as its share of representatives has been split between Lafourche, Terrebonne, and St. Mary. Lafourche, Terrebonne, and Orleans have been combined, which has decreased the number of seats held by these parishes as a whole.

The reduction in Acadian representation has been partly due to the increased population of these parishes, which has placed them in separate Senate districts. In the past, these parishes have been lumped together, which has resulted in a reduction of representation for Acadian residents.
