Students arrive Wednesday for the first day of class at Southside High School, the first public high school to be built in Lafayette Parish in 47 years.

Principal Catherine Cassidy greets students as they arrive at the Youngsville school. Approximately 675 freshman and sophomore students will attend the 258,000-square-foot, three-story school this year. The school's first graduating class will be in 2020.