MHS Convent

The convent for the Sisters of the Most Holy Sacrament who teach at St. Michael's also contains classrooms for the elementary school. The slanted wall, shingled-roof of the convent was repeated in the design of the new parish rectory.

Built by Msgr. Soulier

The junior high school department (top photo) and the gym (lower photo) were built by Msgr. Soulier, present pastor of St. Michael's Church in Crowley. The junior high building contains eight classrooms, a visual aid room, office space and restrooms. The gym was built at a cost of $200,000 and has dressing rooms, showers and other facilities for athletic events.

Elementary School

St. Michael's Elementary School was built by the late Msgr. George Mollo and is located on the same block as the church, rectory and convent. The school is conducted by the Sisters of the Most Holy Sacrament. Enrollment for the 1966-67 school year was approximately 500 students.
