State Beauty Queens Headed For Washington Carnival Ball

WASHINGTON  Feb 28—A stately procession of delegations of women beauties from throughout the U.S. will arrive here today for the Louisiana State Carnival at the State Capitol. All except those from Texas will be en route by March 2.

The delegation will arrive at the train depots and will proceed to the capital by motorcade to meet the judges who will select the 10 beauties who will represent Louisiana in the State Capital.

Each of the girls will wear a costume of Louisiana fashion and will represent the various Louisiana industries and the Louisiana Republican Party. The delegation will include the women from the State capital, the women from the State Senate, the women from the State House of Representatives, the women from the State Board of Education, the women from the State Board of Health, and the women from the State Board of Agriculture.

The women will be welcomed by the governor and the mayor of the city and will be entertained by the city officials. They will be taken to the state capitol and will be shown the various state buildings and the state capitol. They will be entertained by the state officials and will be shown the various state offices.
