Three-fourths of the 1946 crop is estimated to be wild or seedling pecans. The 1946 crop in the United States is estimated at 77,155,000 pounds produced below the 138,082,000 pounds produced in 1945 and 27 per cent below the 10-year average of 105,746,000, according to the report. It is estimated to be wild or seedling pecans.

Improved varieties totaled only 32,906,000 pounds this year compared with 57,179,000 last year and seedlings only 44,249,000 pounds this year compared with 80,903,000 last year.

The 1946 crop in the United States is estimated at 77,155,000 pounds produced below the 138,082,000 pounds produced in 1945 and 27 per cent below the 10-year average of 105,746,000, according to the report. It is estimated to be wild or seedling pecans.

Improved varieties totaled only 32,906,000 pounds this year compared with 57,179,000 last year and seedlings only 44,249,000 pounds this year compared with 80,903,000 last year.