State Teen-Agers To Visit Quebec

Several hundred Louisiana teen-agers will spend 32 days in Quebec Province this summer where they will be taught conversational French and some meet the needs of students who will be able to earn up to five hours of college credit.

A 2-phase program has been arranged by the Council for the Development of French in Louisiana (CODOFIL) and the Quebec government, one in a college setting and the other in a camp environment. Both will be for a duration of 32 days including 5 days devoted to a tour of the beautiful and historic province, James Domengeaux, CODOFIL Chairman, announced today.

Designed For Needs

The programs are designed to meet the needs of students who speak English only as well as those who speak both English and French. The English-only students will learn to converse in French, and the bilingual students will learn to converse fluently in French.

Louisiana students in the study program group will be enrolled in the College de Jonquiere on Lake St. John, north of Quebec City. Those in the visitation program will be (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)
