State’s French-language effort faces challenges

By CALVIN LEAR

LAFAYETTE — Warren Perrin is threatening to sue the queen of England. That year will be the 300th anniversary of Iberville founding the first French settlement in Louisiana. "Technically, I’ll be lifting the exile shouldn’t be that difficult. But it might be difficult to get them to apologize," Perrin said. He wants an apology, too, an admission from the United Kingdom that the banishment was an injustice.

"I’m negotiating that right now. Lifting the exile shouldn’t be that difficult. But it might be difficult to get them to apologize," Perrin said. He is about to break the law, technically. He is scheduled to visit Canada soon to try CODOFIL... has seen its funding tumble from $1.2 million in 1980 to $210,000 this year. In the last 15 years the number of employees dropped from 16 to five and services declined dramatically... The agency can no longer afford to plan as many French cultural activities around the state...
