THE ACADIAN MEMORIAL
St. Martinville, Louisiana

A monument to Louisiana’s Acadian legacy it honors the men, women and children who, in the eighteenth century, were victims of a diaspora —the Acadian Exile.

Many exiles found refuge in Louisiana and to those, the Memorial pays special homage with a mural, depicting figures that represent actual persons documented in Louisiana history as Acadian refugees, a list, in bronze, of the names of individual Acadian refugees found in Louisiana records, and an eternal flame symbolizing the ability of a culture to rekindle itself despite immense hardship.

Located on the banks of the Bayou Teche near the legendary Evangeline Oak

From I-10, Exit 109, then south on LA 31, 15 miles to St. Martinville

Admission Charge • Open Daily 10-4

P.O. Box 379, Dept. AM, 70582
(318) 394-2233
"Pause friend, read my name and remember."

"Arrête-toi, mon ami, lis mon nom et souviens-toi de moi."